Building protocols and regimens (cycles or courses)

Question: Advice on building of regimens and protocols in the system

Answer: The building of regimens and protocols should be carried out in your live system in which you have a test treatment location attached to your main pharmacy. This is to ensure you are validating the protocols and cycles with your live system supporting data. If you build and validate in your test system, then Prottran to your live you cannot absolutely guarantee the supporting data you have used in test for your validation is identical to live.
